

OVER 3,500 FROM ALL PARTS OF ALBERTA JOIN PILGRIMAGE TO LAC STE. ANNE ON THURSDAY

Impressive And Solemn Function—Participated In By Cosmopolitan Gathering — Procession To Mission Grounds Where High Mass Was Celebrated — Two Special Trains On C. N. R. Cross The Threshold

The annual Pilgrimage to Lac St. Anne, under the auspices of Most Reverend Cardinal Armand de Moncton took place yesterday. An unequalled success from every point of view, in numbers, enthusiasm, and devotion, it was the best weather which was all that could be desired. It was a function whose importance and solemnity will live long in the memory of all who had the privilege of being present at it.

3,500 Present
Close on 3,500 persons from all parts of Alberta journeyed to the famous shrine, 2000 of those travelling on Thursday by a Canadian Northern special leaving the depot at 7:30 a.m., the second twenty minutes later, this latter having four coaches added on at St. Albert, containing about 250 persons from Legal and about the same number from Morinville. The majority of those traveling from Edmonton attended Mass, and received Holy Communion at one or other of the city churches.

Pilgrims from other parts of the Morinville, Villeneuve River, Qu'Barre and St. Albert, marched to the mission, where as many as possible visited the little church and then proceeded to the mission grounds where a permanent altar is erected.

Here High Mass was celebrated commencing at 11 o'clock. Nothing province began to arrive at an early hour of the morning, some shortly after dawn, and a continuous stream of fresh arrivals kept pouring in till after 11 a.m. All kinds of vehicles were pressed into the service, from the luxurious touring car to the unpretentious buggy and slow moving ox wagon. It would exceed the devotion of the hundreds, in fact thousands, assembled here to assist in the Holy Sacrifice, and the awe-inspiring edifying to the crowd that enormous crowd kneeling bare-headed with the torrid sun blazing down on them with tropical intensity.

Immediately after mass Rev. Father Pilon, Sacred Heart church, Kintisto, preached an appropriate sermon in English.

Impressive Sermon

The sermon though short, was most eloquent and impressive. The Rev. preacher took for his text the scriptural quotation, "Her parents, who were just, brought up their daughter in the law of Moses." Father Plon pointed out how carefully and jealously St. Anne and St. Joachim, the Accordingly their pilgrimage was held on Wednesday, when over 1200 of their number, resplendent in all the finery and regalia so dear to the hearts of the Indians, were present. The

the children of five tribes, arrived at the mission and performed their devotions with primitive and simple utensils, and Cree and Blackfoot, Assiniboines and Montagnais mingled their prayers in fervent and heartfelt adoration.

Many of these came from such distant places as Ebeon, Sakay, and huttle points as Lake La Biche, Cold Lake, Badlake Lake and were three days making the journey while some few left for their homes as long ago as Monday last. They had traveled continually till they arrived on Wednesday morning at the shrine and will take an equally long time on the return journey.

Association Meeting In Winnipeg Takes Up Status Of Semi-Staff Men.

One of the most important matters discussed at the convention of the Postal Clerks' association, held in Winnipeg last week, was the status of clerks employed in what are known as semi-post office offices. A semi-post office is one where letter carriers are employed and averages 100 carriers. The carrier is recognized as a civil servant, while the latter have no man-

English, Scotch, French, Poles, Ruthenians, Indians, etc.

There were also several sisters from the different orders in the Edmonton district, including sisters of the Faithful Companions of Jesus, Edmonton east and west, Sisters of Providence, Sisters of Filles de Jesus and Sisters of Charity.

The day was not devoted exclusively to religious exercises as boating, swimming and other amusements were indulged in in the forenoon.

The Catholic Women's league and other booths erected on the grounds supplied lunches all day.

Magnificent Success

The whole pilgrimage was a magnificent success.

It is stated that there are semi-voluntary salaries as low as $65 a month after a period of three years' service. It is also said that it is to be that these men, not being full servants and not under the Civil Service act, their salaries have not been increased since the outbreak of the war.

The Postal Clerks' association is using its best endeavors to remedy such a state of affairs by having the clerks in the semi-fast post offices brought within the Civil Service act. The wife and mother being brought in the afternoon, is usually the

Capital Punishment Restored in Russia To Check Desertion

Kerensky Finds Drastic Step Necessary to Save Remnants of Army — All Traitors Must Die.

Petrograd, July 26.—The commander-in-chief and the commanders of the various armies at the front having insisted that restoration of discipline in the army inevitably would necessitate infliction of death penalty, the government has agreed to restore capital punishment. Authorities are taking measures to discover and bring to justice all organizers of and participants in the revolt.

Make Resolute Stand.

In an interview today Premier Kerensky said the government was determined to make a resolute stand against anything which threatened the ruin of the state.

Re-establishment of the death penalty at the front was necessary in view of the fact that the government was faced with the alternative of sacrificing the army to a body of traitors and cowards or having recourse to the only possible means of inspiring terror.

Under General Korniloff's drastic measures to restore order in the Eleventh army one whole division thereof was blown to pieces by their own artillery, to avenge the insults which all loyal troops, and especially the artillery, have silently endured for the past four months from these traitorous rascals.

ed visitations from large numbers of German projectiles. Official.

PETROGRAD, July 26, via London.—(British Admiralty Per Wire-Press)—The official communication from general headquarters tonight reads: "In the direction of Vilna there has been an artillery duel. In the region of Smorgon an intense enemy's fire has been more intense. East of Tarnopol, under enemy pressure, our troops retired to the Gniadomno and Gniadomno rivers.

"Northeast of Trembowla on Wednesday, superior German forces attacked and penetrated our positions on the River Gniadomno in the region of the village of Gniadomno. The situation was unsatisfactory.

"At the same time, the enemy, penetrating into the region of the south of the Trembowla and to the region of Zalavie and Podhayay, began to develop his attack in a north-easterly direction from the village of Tarnopol, occupying positions in the region of Trembowla retired eastward. Owing to the ineffective composition of our units and the excitement of their morning counter attacks brought us no definite results.

"Developing his attack towards the south along the western bank of the Serebia river, the enemy occupied Janoff, Butloff and Zveniazia (south of Tarnopol) the enemy's heavy artillery dealing an intense fire on the eastern bank of the Serebia river in the region of the village of Kaskivoki.

"On Wednesday evening our troops began to retreat from the Serebia river. Certain units are continuing to leave their positions voluntarily, without carrying out the military orders they had been entrusted with. However, with these units, there are others which are devotedly fulfilling their duty towards the fatherland.

"Between the Serebia and the Carpathians our troops, covered by rear guards, have continued to retire eastward. Nijniv and Tlumache have been evacuated by our troops.

"Roumanian front: On Wednesday the Roumanian and Russian troops continued to press upon the retreating enemy to the west of the Suchitza river and have succeeded to line represented by Villaten-Sovela-Guerlie-vidra.

"Caucasus front: The situation is unchanged."

LAME WALK, BLIND RECEIVE SIGHT

Four Miraculous Cures Reported At St. Anne de Beaupre.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

QUEBEC, July 26.—At least four miraculous cures have been reported at St. Anne de Beaupre yesterday and today. Today is the feast of St. Anne, and 10,000 pilgrims at least, are praying at the world-renowned shrine. The miracles recorded and certified are as follows:

Mrs. Mary Russell, 98 Beach St., Holyoke, Mass., left her crutches at the foot of the statue of the Mother of the Virgin, completely cured of a long-standing lameness.

Gregoire Rivest, Three Rivers, left his crutches at the shrine. He now walks without the least limping.

Leona, six-year-old daughter of Leo Picard, Lauson, Levis, was cured today of lameness and poor eyesight.

A little Syrian girl coming from the Maritime provinces was returned here yesterday. Her name has not yet been ascertained owing to the excitement and joy of her mother who ran away with her child after fully thirty pilgrims close by had noticed the child recover her sight.

FRENCH DANCER EXPOSED AS SPY MUST BE SLAIN

Paris, July 26.—A military court today condemned to death for espionage a French dancer known as "Mata Hari," who before her marriage was Marguerite Zelle. She was born in the Dutch Indies and claims Dutch nationality.

CORONER CENSURES TORONTO DOCTOR

Conduct Was, He Says, Improper—Contrary To Ethics Of Profession.

TORONTO, Ont., July 26.—After two hours of deliberation, the coroner's jury investigating the death of 17-year-old Florence Cook, who died recently under suspicious circumstances, tonight brought in a verdict that death resulted from peritonitis, brought on by a miscarriage through an illegal operation by person or persons unknown.

In his address to the jury, the coroner expressed the opinion that if Edith Copeland, the maid now under indictment, had spoken more frankly, they would have been able to place the blame. He also censured Dr. Dawson, the attending physician, his conduct being by his own admission "improper, dishonest and contrary to the ethics of the medical profession."

BEGINS WHEAT CUTTING

WINNIPEG, July 26.—Harry Scott, of Roland, Man., weather permitting, will start cutting a 300-acre field of barley, the straw of which is three feet high, with an estimated average of 65 bushels to the acre, tomorrow morning. Bernard Sloan, of the same district, starts barley cutting this week.

Practically Every Citizen of New Republic Participated in House to House Search For Plotter.

Petrograd, July 25, via London, July 26.—Nicholai Lenine, pacifist agitator, alleged German spy and fugitive from Petrograd since July 22nd, has been arrested after the greatest man-hunt Russia ever knew.

Lenine was taken at Ozerki, Finland, on Tuesday morning. Practically every citizen of Russia was participating in a house to house search for Lenine.

Famous Women

St. Audrey, or St. Audrey, is an English saint, having been the daughter of a king of East Anglia. She earned an exalted reputation both by her piety and good works, and the maintenance of an early vow of virginity which she observed through life, though married successively to two Saxon princes. She founded the convent and church of St. Ely on the spot where the cathedral was erected at a subsequent period and died in 679 as its abbess. From St. Etheldreda's more homely appellation of St. Audrey is derived an adjective of the English language in familiar use. At the fair of St. Audrey at Ely, in former times, toys of all sorts were sold, and a description of cheap necklaces, under the denomination of "tawdry lace," long enjoyed great celebrity. In the process of time, the epithet "tawdry" came to be applied to any piece of glittering tinsel or tawny finery.

Sidelights on the War

The Return of the "Windjammer"
Greater than the need for men, food or ammunition at the present moment, is the need for vessels among the nations fighting the Central Powers of Europe. Every available bottom is being drawn into service, and hulks which a few years ago were considered as liable to fall to pieces if they were moved very far are being called upon to do duty in transatlantic shipping. At the same time many a tub whose hulk has rested in mud for years is again sailing the briny deep. On the New England coast, many vessels of ancient rig are being overhauled and converted into ocean carriers. Whaling barks, some of them built as far back as 1867, have recently been sold to France and England and are now carrying cargoes that in ordinary times would be handled by big steamers. Happier times, with their strange carved figureheads, nosing in and out where three years ago the greyhounds of the ocean, huge, funneled giants, swept majestically past the awed beholder.

The Navy's Brand of Efficiency

covers everything afloat, from manoeuvring battle-cruisers, training great guns, and spotting "subs" to keeping brass-work "bright", decks spotless and faces clean-shaven. The naval life, with its training and traditions, develops men who are never satisfied with equipment that "will do", but only with that which will do best.

In this atmosphere the Gillette Safety Razor most emphatically "makes good". Always keen—always ready for instant action—swift and workmanlike—the Gillette commands the respect of the most exacting naval man, and the affection which every real man feels for a good tool.

The man ashore who shares the clean-cut efficiency of the Navy is equally enthusiastic over the Gillette Safety Razor—or will be the morning he tries it first. He will realize then what comfort and genuine satisfaction a man can get out of a three-minute Gillette shave!

These are days when no man should waste unnecessary time or money over shaving, particularly when so quick, so clean and so smooth a shave waits at home for every owner of a Gillette. If you are not already one of them, join their ranks to-day!

Rotarians Aim to Pay Honor To New International President

Rev. Leslie Pidgeon, of Winnipeg, to be Guest of Local Club at Luncheon—Canadian Club and Others Invited.

Edmonton Rotarians are planning for an official visit which they will receive from the new president of the national President, Rev. Leslie Pidgeon of Winnipeg. This is the first time in the history of Rotary which started in 1905, that a president of the organization has been other than a resident of the United States and it is a still greater honor to a clergyman to be elected as the highest an organization composed of very laymen in extent of business and professional men.

Mr. Pidgeon is extremely popular in Rotary circles. His nomination as president of the organization was made by the city of Regina and he will probably visit Regina and American clubs at the recent convention at Atlanta and it is tribute to the democracy of the organization that Rotary Clubs will have been formed in the meantime by the new district governor, R. J. Lydiatt, of Calgary.

The Daily Poem

THE RUBICON.

One bitter drop to drink,
And then—no more;
One little pause upon the brink,
And then—go over!
One sigh—and then the lib'rant morn
Of perfect day.

When my free spirit, newly born,
Will soar away!
One pang—and I shall end the thrall
Where grief abides,
And generous death will show me all
That now he hides;
And I shall discern
What all the sages of the earth
Have died to learn.

One motion—and the stream is crossed,
So dark—so deep!
And I shall triumph, or be lost
In endless sleep.

Then onward! Whatsoever my fate,
I shall not care!
Nor sin nor sorrow, Love nor Hate
Can touch me there.
—William Winter.

Sufferings Cured by Medicine Recommended by Sister-in-law.

Jamaica, N. Y.—"I suffered greatly with my head and with backache, was weak, dizzy, nervous, with hot flashes and felt very miserable, as I was irregular for two years. One day when I was feeling unusually bad my sister-in-law came and said, 'I wish you would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.' So I began taking it and I am now in good health and am cured. I took the Compound three times a day after meals, and on retiring at night. I always keep a bottle in the house."—Mrs. L. N. BURNHAM, 296 South St., Jamaica, N. Y.

Stock Up With Coal! Warning To Residents

Because This is Mining District That is no Reason to Believe There Will be Plenty For All Next Fall and Winter.

Fuel Controller Magrath's injunction to Canadian householders to lay in their winter supply of coal during the summer months applies to Edmonton and other coal producing areas of the Dominion with the same force as it does to territory long distant from the mines. This was the generally expressed opinion of coal operators interviewed on the subject Thursday morning.

"People should not imagine," observed one dealer, "that because there are coal mines at their very doors that they should not make an effort to observe the advice of Mr. Magrath. Although Edmonton is a mining district the demand from distant areas for coal during the coming winter will be so great that production will be taxed to its limit. Alberta people should avail themselves this summer of all the coal they can conveniently stock, and as a result when the bitter cold of winter sets in the dealers can handle with more expedition orders from throughout the other provinces."

The position as outlined by Mr. Magrath shows that there is scarcely any chance of relief from the United States, as shipments to Canada have been curtailed to a great extent, and there is a big shortage at the docks on the Great Lakes.

If suffering during the coming winter is to be avoided, the men in the business all say, householders of Canada, residents of coal bearing areas not accepted, must stock up now with coal, as Mr. Magrath has requested in his appeal.

TODAY'S INQUIRIES

What are the directions for canning peas?

Shell the peas as soon as taken from the vines, wash and pack into jars, shaking down meanwhile. Set the jars over lukewarm water on the cloth-covered rack or on the bits of wood in the canner. Put on the cover and let stand until the water boils, then fill each jar with overflowing with boiling water and cook until the peas are nearly tender. Adjust the rubbers, add boiling water, set the lids in place and tighten ten minutes, then tighten on the lids.

What is the recipe for stewed beef kidney?

One beef kidney, two onions cut up, skin the kidney and fry a nice brown; then the onion; put both in a stewpan, then make a thick gravy in the pan in which you have fried the kidney and onions, cover the kidney and onion with it; pepper and salt to taste.

To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—Will you please answer the following through the column of your paper. Is it proper for three or four young girls to go to a lake and stay with three or four young men for a holiday? We have no chaperon, but a widow house-keeper who is in the house all the time. Some people say it is not proper but this house-keeper acts as chaperon also and as far as I am concerned I do not see any harm in it, as the boys as far as I know are all proper gentlemen. Please answer this at your earliest convenience as I am in vacation for my holidays next week and want to hear from you before I go.

Thanking you in advance,
M. BROWN, City.

To save any regret or any comment on your anticipated delightful outing, I will mean secure a chaperone. While the widow house-keeper might be an excellent chaperone her duties as house-keeper for so many would keep her employed to such an extent that she would not be able to join the party on their excursion or to enjoy the sports and good times away from the camp and that is where the "some people" you mention would say it was not proper. I think the girls and boys are undoubtedly ladies and gentlemen, yet it would be as well and discreet to leave no chance for the gossip, and besides, having a chaperone would make the holiday much happier knowing that it was the proper thing to do.

Blonde or Brunette

To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—Will you please advise me through your valuable page how to make my face thinner? How to make my hair grow longer as it grows all in thickness? Which do you consider prettier, a blonde or a brunette? And oblige sincerely,

LILLIAN LOWE, City.

To reduce the face, you might try the vibratory treatments which will doubtless give the desired results. It is the nature of some hair to grow very thick and short and in the case of a reliable hair dresser the condition cannot be changed. It is taking rather an unfair advantage of the editor to ask the question as to the consideration of the prettier of a blonde or a brunette. Both are equally pretty, in my opinion; if I knew your coloring it would be a much more satisfactory answer.

Filet of Sole.

To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—Please give me a recipe for filet of sole.
Skin and bone two large flounders and cut into eight filets. Place in buttered pan, sprinkle with salt, pepper and lemon juice and add one-quarter cupful white wine. Cover and cook for fifteen minutes, then place on a hot platter and serve with the following sauce. Fry one tablespoonful chopped onion in one tablespoonful butter for five minutes, add two tablespoonfuls flour and pour on gradually the liquid left in the pan in which the fish was cooked, with enough white wine to make the soupful in all. Add two tablespoonfuls butter, salt and cayenne to taste.

ON DIT

That "Uneeda a Uniform" is now a slogan for N. Y. bakers.

That it is not, as has been announced, Lady Vivian Deane who is going to Rumania with the Scottish Women's Hospital, but Gertrude, Lady Deane.

That newest blouses are of Georgette of one color, combined with net of another, and they are put together panel fashion with hemstitching.

That the new collarless neck-line from shoulder to shoulder saves the red necktie and distinguishes many throats, but it only becomes oval-faced women.

That going into marriage with a sensitive soul and an unimpaired vanity is almost as foolish and painful as going to New Jersey in an open-work blouse.

That there are now thirty women working in the shops and about the roundhouse of the Northern Pacific, in Duluth, and successfully doing work which formerly was done by men.

That wide satin sashes, this year's favorite color-maker on a neutral-tinted gown—are styled through the folds, but sewn nowhere, so that they can be detached and the color changed to match the hat.

Bring Ton of Rhubarb 60 Miles;
Sell it on Market Realizing $40

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes of Lunnford Take Three Days With Yoke of Oxen to Reach Edmonton—Camp Out On the Way.

A ton of strawberry rhubarb from the garden homestead of A. J. Hughes of Lunnford was brought to the city market Thursday and was rapidly picked up on account of its excellent quality. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes camped out along the trail, eating at a roadside campfire, while their oxen had their noon-day meal on the roadside pasture, during the three days and nights that it took to make their 60 mile journey to the city market.

The rhubarb was packed high in the double wagon box. A bed and a trunk for baggage and a grub box with cooking utensils were carried on the rack which rested on the top of the box. A canvas top arched over the top made a comfortable top. The roads were fairly good.

They left home on Monday noon and arrived on the edge of the city on Wednesday night, coming into the market early Thursday morning.

For a time, they found a slim attendance of city buyers but as one customer told another of the fine rhubarb at 2 cents per pound they found the trade steadily develop. This is the second load of rhubarb that they have brought to the city this year and they expect to bring another wagon load to market after having is over.

Some of the stalks are of remarkable size, nearly three feet long and of good stout build. At the price which the sales were made the wagon load was expected to bring about $40.

Mrs. Hughes is a firm believer in the use of rhubarb and has promised to give Bulletin readers at another time some hints how to use the plant for many things besides pies.

FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1917.

Curious that none of these weighty deliverances from our men of "big business" as to what we must do to win the war make reference to the conscription of the profiteer's spoils.

The authority to exempt being left in the hands of local tribunals,

the conscription bill will not conscript where conscription is needed. Therefore, it will either conscript nowhere or it will script

where conscription is not needed.

Ministers who shut off recruiting on demand of the munition-

makers are not likely to be proof

against a demand from the same quarter that conscription shall not conscript men whom they may want to use in their business.

Hon. Mr. Seavigny says that if there are ten thousand more men

fit for military service in Alberta

he hopes they will be willing to do their duty. He need have no fears on that score. The question is whether they should be made

do duty for ten thousand men in some other province who insist on being excused.

The eastern millers say the western grain dealers are holding them up. The western grain dealers say the millers are holding them up. It is to be hoped the debate will go on. A good deal of useful information may be gathered from the observations of gentlemen so well qualified to discuss the subject.

Montreal Star: "The men who "are inciting the Russian people

"to domestic strife are just as

"worthy as the men who are incit-

"ing the Canadian people to a bit"ter family quarrel." And the pity of it is that there would have been no family quarrel if the people had been consulted about it. This on the authority of the public declarations of the men in Quebec who are stirring up the strife.

The enforcement of a law depends upon what it does not contain, quite as much as upon what it does contain. The conscription

bill contains no provision stating the number of men to be required

At least outside Quebec most of the objection that has developed to the conscription bill is not objection to the autocratic method

by which the bill has been enacted; to the fact that the bill is so drawn that it will not and cannot be a fair measure of conscription;

and to the evident intention to use conscription as a stalking horse

by which a discredited and incompetent administration hopes to avoid a verdict on its record and to impose itself upon the country

for another term.

Canada is supposed to be a country whose people govern themselves. Under cover of the war, or because of it, a Parliament

elected six years ago has arrogated

to itself the right to govern them.

Autocratic methods are distastefful to a free people, whatever the purpose and however good the results. Had Parliament given the Canadian people good government

there would still have been objection to Parliament presuming to pass so important a measure as conscription without express public sanction if there appeared to be any notable measure of opposition to it on the part of the public.

As a matter of fact, Parliament

has given the Canadian people

such government as they would not have sanctioned, nor even tolerated, had they been consulted.

When a Parliament that has so clearly forfeited its right to claim either representative character or business capacity undertook to make so wide a departure in the national policy as to abandon voluntary enlistment and employ conscription, the public surely were entitled to be consulted before the proposal was given the status and force of law.

The bill as it stands is not, and cannot be, a fair measure of conscription. It is so drawn that no sort of enforcement could make it fair; and it is so drawn that there is absolutely no assurance that it will be enforced with any intention of making it fair. It is currently supposed that the purpose of the bill is to provide the men

needed to make up the half million

Sir Robert Borden promised to put in the field. It will do nothing of the kind. When its powers have been exhausted our army will still be short 50,000 men of the half million enrollment. No provision is made in the bill for drawing conscripts most largely from those provinces which have failed to supply their quotas. On the contrary, the power of exemption is left in the hands of local tribunals—this is, of tribunals dominated by local sentiment and tional prejudice. Under this local control, the provinces which have been "slackers" under voluntary-

ism will be slackers under conscription, and those provinces

whose people have supplied the volunteers will have to provide the conscripts also. There will be conscription where it has not been needed and little or no conscription where it is needed.

ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent it by readers of The Bulletin to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling

or concern only the questioner.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear some name and address of the questioner. This information is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

To the Bulletin: When cabbages

are nearly heading I often find that they are killed by a white worm in the bark of the stalk, where it emerges

from the ground. Can you tell me of what the larva, and how to protect the plants against them?

L. H. C.

The trouble is caused by the cabbage root maggot, which is an outcome of the cabbage maggot fly, a small pest which deposits small white elongated

eggs on the stems of the plants.

These eggs hatch out in a few days.

The preventive is to place tar-paper about the stems of the plants when setting out cabbages.

To the Bulletin: What are the areas of the cities of New York and Chicago?

Reader.

New York has an area of 31.9

square miles, Chicago 19.9 square miles, and Kansas City, Kas., 78.8

square miles.

To the Bulletin: How can one increase their height?

F. B.

Here is an excellent stretching exercise, which, it is said, will increase the height if followed persistently:

Lock the hands, stretch the arms out in front on a level with the shoulders.

Without bending the knees, touch the floor, or as near it as possible.

Straighten the body, carrying the arms

upward and backward over the head,

then bring the arms down laterally

(inclining them backward) to the level of the shoulders, then out in front

to starting position.

To the Bulletin: Will you kindly enlighten me as follows: 1. If Lutheran and Lutheran are one church or if Lutheran is incorrect. 2. When an American, or any foreigner, is naturalized in Canada, does he get the same right in England as an Englishman?

3. Does a Canadian have the same right in England, after being there

three or six months, as an Englishman? A. O. Camrose.

1. Lutheran is the generally accepted word and we can find no authority for the other. Probably it is a misprint. 2. No, not under the present

Act, but when the new Federal Naturalization Act, passed as a result of British legislation, comes into effect on January 1st, 1918, he will have the same right. 3. Same answer as to question No. 2.

Adventures of Uncle Wiggily

Uncle Wiggily and the Rambler Rose.

Copyright, 1917, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper of Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman. "Oh, dear! I might have known it would happen like this!"

"What would?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Is anything the matter, Janie?"

"Matter? I should say there was! I haven't any clothes line."

"Why not?" asked the bunny uncle gentleman. "It seems to me I saw one on the paste in the yard yesterday."

"So you did," explained Nurse Jane, "but Billie Bushytail, the boy squirrel, asked me to lend him my line so he could go fishing. I did, and he hasn't brought it back, and I want to wash some towels and hang them out to dry and I have no line, Oh, dear!"

"Oh, don't worry," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll go to the store and get you another line."

"Will you?" cried Nurse Jane eagerly. "That's very kind of you!"

So Uncle Wiggily started for the store to get the clothes line. Over the fields and through the woods he went, looking on the way for an adventure, thinking he might just as well as not have one while he was about it.

But nothing happened. I'm sorry to say, and he got safely to the store, bought the clothes line, not even a skeelsick bothering him, and it began to look as though all the adventures had hidden themselves in a hole and pulled the hole in after them.

But, all of a sudden, when Uncle Wiggily was near his hollow stump bungalow, he heard, down in the grass beside an older stone wall, a sad little voice saying:

"Oh, dear! I can't climb up! I never can climb up, and I'll have to stay down in the deep grass where no one can see how pretty I am!"

"Hat. Who is this that seems to be in trouble?" asked Uncle Wiggily in his kind voice.

"Oh, I am the crimson rambler rose," was the answer, "and I ought to be climbing up that stone wall to make it more beautiful with my red flowers. But I can't climb up because its stones are too smooth for me to get any hold. It needs some string or rope fastened to the wall so I may climb. For I am a crimson rambler rose, and to ramble and climb is my delight from early morn till late at night."

"Then make your heart easy," laughed the bunny rabbit gentleman. "Climb the stone wall you shall. I'll put some ropes on it for you."

SOLDIERS' BILL PASSES HOUSE AFTER DEBATE

Hon. F. Oliver Suggests Expropriation of Land Near Railways.

Ottawa, July 26.—In the house of commons last evening, after the receipt of the soldiers' bill received second reading, and it was moved into committee. Later it was reported and given third reading. J. O. Tupper placed himself on record as absolutely opposed to the principle of placing the men on land who were not accustomed to farming. Those returned soldiers who had been farmers before they left might well take advantage of the measure, but the bill applied to returned soldiers from any part of the empire.

Mr. Tupper declared that in large bodies for the past three years and it was now proposed to send them 20, 30 or 40 miles from the railroad to settle. He ventured to say that no one in 50 would make good. The country had had experience before in assisting inexperienced men to settle. Most of them had given up at the end of a few years without being able to pay a cent of the advances and the mortgage companies had taken over the land in lieu of the debt.

Hon. Dr. Roche declared that no man was receiving the grant unless he had been recommended by the board.

Mr. Tupper asked if the bill applied to returned soldiers from India and Dr. Roche replied that it did not, that it only applied to the self-governing dominions of the empire.

Dr. Roche then moved in amendment the bill that the privileges be extended to those also who, being British subjects before the war resident in Canada, had served during the war with the forces of his majesty's allies. The amendment was carried.

Mr. Oliver declared that in reserving land for returned soldiers and in granting them property in such a manner, the government must be guided by the number of applicants.

Dr. Roche declared that such reservations would not be held longer than two years. The board would be guided by the number of applicants.

Land Near Railways. Mr. Oliver thought the government should expropriate land near the railways and sell it to the soldiers and settlers at fair prices. The plan, he said, had the approval of Lord Shaughnessy.

Sir Thomas White said that it might be necessary some time to expropriate such lands held by private interests. This was a matter which had often been considered, but it could not be undertaken at present as it was not possible to finance such an undertaking.

Today We Celebrate

The Whiskey Insurrection.

It was toward the end of July, 1791, that the "whiskey question" was prominently before the country and body. In fact, the gentleman from the Blue Grass state is the largest United States senator in captivity, and anybody who ever sees him once will never forget him, for there is six feet, four inches of senator to look at. As to his depth, both mental and physical, it is considerable and it is easily imaginable that when Ollie M. James puts on a fighting face, which he does, there is a great scattering of those who happen to be in his neighborhood. The United States senator from Kentucky is a born fighter. He is nothing better than to get into the thick of senatorial debate and let his enemies have it. They are just political enemies, not personal ones, for everyone likes Ollie James. Crittenden county, Kentucky, has the honor of claiming Ollie James as its own. He was born there July 27, 1871. His taste for politics developed very early, for before he was old enough to vote, he was in the Kentucky Legislature, being a page in the Kentucky Legislature. At the same time he took up the study of law under his father. He was admitted to the bar in 1891 and later was one of the attorneys for the late Governor Goebel in his contest for the governorship of Kentucky. He has always been an ardent supporter of William Jennings Bryan and seconded his nomination for the presidency in 1908. He was elected to the house of representatives from the First Kentucky district in 1903. He was a conspicuous member of this body until his election to the United States senate in 1912. His term expires in 1919 and, if he is alive and happy, he'll be re-elected at that time as sure as shooting.

NEAR-BRIDE IS DEAD.

Winnipeg, July 26.—Mary Sachinski, aged 24, who in a fit of dementia donned a bridal costume and drank poison on Monday last, died in the hospital during the night.

Changed Rank at Breakfast Table.

The Duke of Fife has been described as the only man ever known to have changed his rank while at the breakfast table.

Princess Louise had been celebrated in the private chapel of Buckingham Palace on the morning of July 27, 1889, he led his bride into the dining room, where the wedding breakfast was laid, as an earl. When the meal was half over Queen Victoria, in toasting the young couple, conferred a dukedom upon him, and thus at a bound he advanced to the peerage. Although the title of Princess Royal, bestowed upon the Duchess of Fife by King Edward in 1905, did not effect her own precedence, it bestowed had the important effect of changing the rank of her daughters from "ladies" to princesses, thereby bringing them without the provisions of the royal warrant act and rendering them eligible as wives of English or European royalty.

Today's Anniversaries

Sir Francis Drake arrived in England on July 27, 1586, from a western expedition, accompanied by Lane, commander of Raleigh's Virginia settlement. He returned from this settlement the first tobacco to be smoked in England. That which Sir John Hawkins had brought earlier had been looked upon merely as a drug. On this date, in 1583, a bill for the better observance of the Sabbath was stolen from the clerk's table in the English house of commons. The bill had not yet received the signature of the king. On July 27, 1794, the legislative union of England and Scotland was completed. This was one of the most important events of the reign of Queen Anne. The Territory of Alaska was organized on July 27, 1866.
